

Matthias Finkbeiner

Position/Department/Division/Institution/Organization

Managing Director Institute of Environmental Technology, Chair of Sustainable Engineering, Technische Universität Berlin

Country

Germany

Career history

Prof. Dr. Matthias Finkbeiner is Chair of Sustainable Engineering and Managing Director of the Department of Environmental Technology at Technical University Berlin.

He was Chairman of the ISO-Committee TC207/SC5 for Life Cycle Assessment for nine years and member of the International Life Cycle Board (ILCB) of the UNEP's Life Cycle Initiative.

He was appointed for the governing body of the ecolabel Blue Angel.

Earlier in his career, he was Manager at the Design-for-Environment Department for Mercedes-Benz Cars at Daimler AG.

He has a multidisciplinary background in environmental science and sustainability management.

Awards/Publications

SAE Environmental Excellence in Transportation Award

DaimlerChrysler Environmental Leadership Award

More than 100 publications

Areas of expertise

Carbon Footprinting, Water Footprinting, Life Cycle Assessment, Resource efficiency, Sustainability assessment