

Session Title: Fintech for Climate Change

Name: Matthew McShane

Position: Regional Manager, TRINE

Abstract title: Impact Banking

The modern banking sector hides its transactions and lending policies behind a wall of confidentiality and bureaucracy. At Trine we believe that this should change.

By empowering individuals to invest their money in socially and environmentally impactful companies we democratise peoples finances and allow them to create a better, more sustainable world while earning a return on their investment.