

Session Title: Digital Technology for Distributed Energy Resources

Name: Yiğit GÜVEN

Position: Director, New Market Development Asia & International Channel Strategy, Sonnen

Energy storage has emerged as a key enabling technology for increased penetration of renewables on the grid, energy transition, connected customer, as well as e-mobility.

sonnen is one of the leaders for residential energy storage systems with ~40,000 systems installed in Germany and Italy, with US and Australia being the biggest growth markets.

sonnen is described as the “utility of the future” due to its innovative offerings such as energy sharing or connected batteries. sonnen offers unique know-how and is running complete new business models for a decentralized energy system.