Career history

Mary L. Schapiro is the Vice Chair for Global Public Policy of Bloomberg. She has been at Bloomberg since October 2018, and also serves as a Special Advisor to the Founder and Chairman. Ms. Schapiro, who has had a distinguished career as a financial services regulator under four U.S. presidents from both political parties, oversees Bloomberg's public policy and regulatory priorities globally. Her service as the 29th SEC Chair culminated decades of regulatory leadership. She was the first woman to serve as SEC Chair, and the only person to have served as chair of both the SEC and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

Ms. Schapiro also serves as an advisor to Bloomberg in multiple capacities, leading the efforts of three groups chaired by Michael R. Bloomberg, including the Financial Stability Board's Task Force on Climate-Related Financial Disclosures, the Climate Finance Leadership Initiative developed at the request of the UN Secretary General and the Working Group on U.S. RMB Trading and Clearing, which supports the internationalization of China's currency in order to improve the competitiveness and efficiency of U.S. businesses by lowering trading costs and improving access to China's markets.

Before becoming SEC Chair and working for Bloomberg, Ms. Schapiro served as chief executive officer of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, the largest nongovernmental regulator of securities firms. Earlier, she was Chair of the CFTC from 1994 to 1996, and a commissioner of the SEC from 1988 to 1994. She serves on the boards of Morgan Stanley (NYSE: MS), and CVS Health (NYSE: CVS). She is also a member of the governing board of the Center for Audit Quality and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.
